19. Court Records, $\frac{\text{XVII.}}{2}$ } 430. 12 October [September?], 1740.

Message of Governor Belcher: Refers to the order passed in March last by the General Court strictly forbidding John Colman and others, and Edward Hutchinson and others, to issue any notes of hand, &c., till the May session, since which time the whole Court has done nothing further in the affair. Recommends the reference of both Schemes to a Committee to sit during recess. Further proceedings meantime to be prohibited without leave from the government.

Warns militia officers not to sign or give encouragement to the passing of said notes, and declares his resolve to dismiss from office such as shall continue to do so.

*Massachusetts Archives.23. 102: 88. 10 November, 1740.

24. 102: 89. 10 November, 1740.

Letter from Robert Hale: It is not out of contempt for the authority of the Governor and Council, but from a desire to act in the interest of the country, which inclines him to pursue the Manufactory Scheme. The proclamation of the 5th inst. makes this incompatible with his longer holding a Commission under the government. He therefore resigns as Justice of the Peace.

25. 102: 90. 10 November, 1740.

Joint Letter of Samuel Adams and John Choate, resigning because by proclamation the holding of a commission under his Excellency is made inconsistent with the prosecution of the Manufactory Scheme.

26. Court Records, $\frac{\text{XVII.}}{2}$ } 436. 22 November, 1740.

Governor Belcher's speech to General Court: Refers to two Schemes or Projections. Is told the notes are getting out among the people. The Court not having taken action, the Council took the matter in hand during recess. This brought the makers of the Silver Scheme to make an essential amendment, whereby holders of notes may receive the value of the notes in silver or gold on demand. This amendment is lodged in the Secretary's office. Has thought it indispensable that he should bear testimony against the Land Bank. Recommends the passage of a law stopping further proceedings. Refers to an application to Parliament for the suppression of this dangerous affair.

27. Council Records, 10: 463. 5 December, 1740.

Answer of George Leonard and others, late Directors of the Manufactory Company, to the petition of Samuel Stevens, alleging that they have burned the bills as they came in, have destroyed the plates and have not since the Act of Parliament came over in May, 1741, had a bill struck off. They have aided partners who could not otherwise procure the bills, by exchanging bills in the hands of possessors and lending them to the partners and inducing moneyed men to do the same. Speech of the Governor: The unhappy circumstances of the late Directors and Partners of the Land Bank Scheme have been the object of his attention. Would be glad to promote the end aimed at by the engrossed bill which has passed both Houses. It interferes, however, with the Act of Parliament, and is of extraordinary nature. It might possibly have its entire effect before it could be submitted for approval to his Majesty, and he is instructed to submit all bills for approval before signing them himself. Hopes the prudent measures which have had such extraordinary influence in bringing in the bills for destruction will be continued. Commends the moderation of possessors of bills in confining their demands to delinquents. Hopes that none will take advantage of the Act of Parliament to gratify pique. Announces that the Council have ordered the Attorney-General to prosecute contumacious partners.

233. Court Records, XXI. 276. 10 September, 1756.

Report of Joint Committee on the Petition of Samuel Stevens and the answer of the Commissioners, &c. thereto: Recites the fact that, shortly after the arrival of the Act of Parliament, Stevens was sued for the redemption of £300 Manufactory bills; at that time he was himself a delinquent, but pending this suit he paid certain persons £300 in redemption of Manufactory bills and the suit was thereupon discontinued, no judgment being entered and no payment being made by Petitioner of the sum demanded. Afterwards the same Plaintiff brought suit against Timothy Stevens, son of Petitioner, and recovered judgment. To enable Timothy to settle this judgment, Petitioner mortgaged his estate. Afterwards, in October, 1750, the Commissioners were ordered by the General Court to reimburse Petitioner the value of three hundred pounds Manufactory bills. The Report refers to certain errors in the statement of Petitioner, in which he confounds the suits against his son and himself, but does not regard these misstatements as material. The payments to Petitioner by Commissioners are recited, and they charge him with a parcel of real estate set over to him by the Commissioners, of which he has been unable to get possession. They report the balance still due.

In Council, read and ordered that the Report be accepted.

In the House of Representatives, read and concurred.

Prays for relief.

his proportion of the bills, and has paid all assessments, also all other debts, and settled their several proportions upon all his children; that his son Timothy then reconveyed the estate to him for life; that Nathaniel Martin recovered judgment against him about 1742 for £300 in Manufactory bills; that the terrors of pre-munire occasioned his confinement in his house for a year; that Martin then brought action against Timothy Stevens and recovered judgment, to satisfy which Timothy was obliged to mortgage his private estate together with Petitioner's for £4,000 O. T. This mortgage was foreclosed, and Timothy was unable to exercise his privilege of redemption. The creditor immediately conveyed to the two youngest daughters of Petitioner, who with ease borrowed the necessary money on the same security. These daughters have commenced an action of ejectment against Petitioner and Timothy. Nothing has been done to relieve Petitioner either by assessment or Lottery. His suit against the Sheriff's estate has been continued from term to term. Prays that proceedings in ejectment be quashed.

Memorial of Samuel Danforth in behalf of himself and the other Commissioners for adjusting the affairs of the late Land Bank: Memorialist was one of the Commission, and has thought it his duty to present a narrative of the proceedings of the Commission. For five years after entering upon his duties the methods of proceeding were limited to such as tended rather to increase than diminish the debts of the Company. During all this time the value of the outstanding bills were increased by the interest thereon. The Commission were however compelled to pursue these methods till the burning of the Court House in 1747; then their insufficiency, the increase of the value of the bills, the insolvency of many partners, the losses occasioned by sales of estates of partners prior to 1743, and the loss of security on estates thrown into other Provinces by the adjustment of boundary lines, led the Government to order an assessment, and provision was made for collection in a less tedious way. Such assessment was laid in 1749, but failed of approval by the General Assembly. Nothing more was done till 1763, interest meantime continuing to run on the bills. Between 1749 and 1763 some small sums were collected, but in Plymouth and Bristol Counties the Sheriffs retained the warrants in their hands for years, and then returned them without service. After applying the net proceeds of the Lottery, an assessment was laid on surviving partners and collected. A second assessment was laid on those who had been omitted in order to refund those who had paid more than their proportion. This has not been successful. Prays that a Committee may be appointed to investigate, that an allowance be made and a Report be made.

Report of the Committee appointed by the General Court, 19 March, to hear the late Directors and Partners of the Land Bank or Manufactory Scheme: Are of opinion that the Report of Edward Sheaffe and others, 26 February, contains a just statement of the relations of Directors and Partners to the Company. Allege that the number of bills redeemed by Commissions amounted to at least £8000, but owing to destruction of papers by fire the redemption can be traced of only £5346. 18. 11 by the two Commissions. This sum they charge against the Directors. They relieve them from the charge of £2318. 8. 3 due from delinquents as per Report made at Milton; from the sums paid by them under the assessment of 1751; from certain sums due from the estates of Samuel Adams and John Choate; from the assessment of £40 each paid in by eight Directors; from the assessment of £40 made at that time on the late Samuel Adams; and from the assessment of £20 made on each of the Directors in 1745. The balance, £1740. 7. 3, they find to be due from the Directors to the Partners, and recommend that this be collected, and, with certain other moneys, paid over to creditors, and to such Partners as have paid the assessments of 8 September, 1763, and 22 March, 1764. They consider it impracticable to relieve those who paid the ten per cent assessment.

They attempted to frame an Account from memory, which was necessarily incomplete. In consequence of a new order calling on them to submit their accounts at the beginning of this session, they have prepared a new Statement beginning with April, 1751, at which time their accounts were considered and reported on by a Committee, whereof John Wheelwright was chairman. As to transactions before the fire they ask that their oath that such of the Company's moneys not otherwise accounted for, as they received before the fire, were disbursed in the service of the Company, be accepted, and that they be discharged.

To the Sheriff of our County of Suffolk his Under Sheriff or Deputy, Greeting.

WE command you that you Summon Eleazer Ellis of Dedham, in our County of Bristol Yeoman (if he may be found in your Precinct) to appear before Our Justices of Our Inferiour Court of Common Pleas to be holden at Boston within and for Our said County of Suffolk, on the first Tuesday of October next, then and there in Our said County to Answer to John Jeffries of Boston aforesaid, Esq; Samuel Danforth of Cambridge in Our County of Middlesex, Esq; and John Chandler of Worcester in Our County of Worcester, Esq; Commissioners appointed for the ordering and adjusting all the Affairs and Business necessary for the just and equal finishing of the Land Bank and Manufactory Scheme, in a Plea of Debt; for that whereas the said Eleazer Ellis and many others in the Year of our Lord One Thousand seven Hundred and forty, at Boston aforesaid, published and became engaged and interested in an unwarrantable Scheme for supplying a pretended Want of a Medium in Trade, by setting up a Bank on Land Security, the Stock of such Bank to be raised by publick Subscriptions for large Sums of Money, whereof small sums were from Time to Time to be paid in by the particular Subscribers, and to be managed by Directors, and other Officers, and Dividends to be made, and issued forth Bills called Manufactory Bills of several Denominations for divers Sums amounting to a great Value: And whereas afterward the Directors and Partners of the said Company, in general publicly renounced their Scheme, and great Numbers of them redeemed their just Proportion of the said Bills and delivered them up to be consumed, yet many of the Partners neglected to do it, as by the Preamble of an Act passed by the Great and General Court of this our Province of the Massachusetts Bay, begun and held at Boston on the twenty-fifth Day of May Seventeen Hundred and forty three, and continued by Adjournment and Prorogation to the twentieth Day of October last, entitled An Act for the more speedy finishing of the Land Bank or Manufactory Scheme, it is declared; and therefore for the more speedy finishing of the said Scheme in as equitable a Manner as may be, it is by the said Act enacted, "That the said Commissioners be enabled if need be in their own Names to sue for and recover such Sums of Money or any part thereof as shall be Assessed upon any such delinquent Director or Partner by the said Commissioners or any two of them, with the Approbation and Allowance of the Great and General Court of this Our Province for the Redemption of their respective Proportions of the Bills of the said late Company, and their equitable Part and Share of all Loss and Charges arising by said Scheme, in any of Our Courts in Our said County of Suffolk, by such

And whereas the said Commissioners on the sixteenth of August last at Boston aforesaid made an Assessment whereby they assess'd such of the delinquent Partners in said Scheme (whereof the said Eleazer Ellis was one) as had paid no part of what was due from them to the said late Company, nor had otherwise redeemed any Part of the Bills which they borrowed and received of the said late Company, in divers Sums of Money consisting of the principal Sums by the said delinquent Partners respectively received from the said late Company in Land Bank or Manufactory Bills and the Interest due thereon, together with the further Sum of six Pounds on every Hundred of the original Sum drawn out of the said late Company's Stock or borrowed out of the same, by such of the said assess'd Partners as were concern'd in Trade, and three Pounds on the Hundred as the Proportion of the other assess'd Partners, and so pro rata for any greater or less Sum, in which Assessment the said Eleazer Ellis was assess'd in the sum of Thirty Seven Pounds Nineteen Shillings & Eight pence that is to say in Thirty Pounds for the principal Sum by him received from the said late Company in the Bills aforesaid, and Seven Pounds one Shilling & Eight pence for Interest and Charges, and Eighteen Shillings for Loss on Trade; amounting in the whole to the said Sum of Thirty Seven Pounds Nineteen Shillings & Eight pence And the said Commissioners made a Report of the same Assessment to the Great and General Court of Our said Province during their last Session begun and held at Boston the ninth day of August last. And the said Assessment was by the said Great and General Court by an Act then pass'd intitled An Act in further Addition to and Explanation of an Act for the more speedy finishing the Land Bank or Manufactory Scheme, allowed and approv'd of against such of the Partners assessed as aforesaid, who should not file their Appeals from the same to the said Great and General Court at their next Session in the Secretary's Office on or before the seventh Day of September Instant, and such of said Partners were by said Act made chargeable to pay to the said Commissioners the respective Sum or Sums thus assess'd upon them, and on Neglect of Payment thereof the said Commissioners were authorized in their own Names to sue for and recover the same in Manner before-mentioned; provided the said Commissioners gave Notice to the late Partners of the said Manufactory Company by them assess'd as aforesaid of the several before-mentioned Assessments by causing a List or Schedule of the same, together with a Copy of the last mentioned Act, to be inserted in the four weekly Prints, called the Boston Weekly-Post-Boy, the Boston Evening Post, the Boston Gazette or Weekly Journal, and the Boston Weekly News-Letter, which should be next published after the Publication of the said last mentioned Act: And the Plaintiffs say, that the last mentioned Act was published at Boston aforesaid on the eighteenth Day of August last, and they accordingly at Boston aforesaid gave Notice to the late Partners assessed as aforesaid of their several before-mentioned Assessments, by causing a List or Schedule of the same (wherein was contained the Name of the said

PROSPECTUS OF THE LAND BANK OR MANUFACTORY COMPANY.

PREPARED BY

ANDREW McFARLAND DAVIS.

NOTE.

THE original — a broadside — from which the copy made use of here was taken, is to be found in the Massachusetts Archives, CII. 28. It was obviously prepared for posting in public places and represents an interesting stage of the proceedings. The main features of the Scheme had been agreed upon, but the details were so far susceptible of change that even in the broadside itself there were changes written. Whether these were the suggestions of some individual or whether they were accepted and made on all the broadsides, we cannot tell, this being the only copy of the instrument which has been handed down to us. In size the broadside measures $14\frac{1}{4}$ by $11\frac{1}{8}$ inches.

VII. All Mortgages and Bonds shall be made to the Directors for the Use of the Company, except what is given by any Director which shall be made to the rest of the Directors; and all Mortgages shall be put upon publick Record, to prevent clandestine Conveyances; the Charge of recording to be paid by the Mortgager; and every Partner shall be obliged on Demand of the Directors, or the major Part of them, to give such better Security as they shall think

XII. Whereas it is principally designed that all the Subscribers shall give Land Security, as before mentioned in the third Article; yet as there are many Artificers and Traders in this Town of Boston, in good Credit, who have not Real Estate to Mortgage, but can give good Personal Security to the Satisfaction of the Directors; Now that such Persons and they only may be encouraged in their respective Occupations, it shall be in the Power of the Directors to admit such Persons to be Subscribers, but none for more then One Hundred Pounds, they giving Bond with two sufficient Suretys in double that Sum.

XIII. As the Signers of the Bills oblige themselves to the Possessors in behalf of the Partners, so the Partners must oblige themselves by an Instrument to indemnify the Signers.

XIV. At the annual Meeting in June all Accompts relating to the Company shall be laid before them by the Directors and Treasurer, and a major Part of the Directors, concurring with a major Part of the Company then present, may agree upon any other Rules or Methods for the better observing and fulfilling the Articles aforesaid.

18. As by the Mortgages and Covenants aforementioned the Partners give Security to the Signers of the Bills to enable them to satisfy the Possessor, so the Signers shall give Security to indemnify the Indorser.

19. All accounts relating to the Company's joint Affairs shall be laid before them at their annual Meeting in September by the Directors and Treasurer, for their Information and Approbation.

20. A major Part of the Directors concurring with a major Part of the Partners present at any annual (or other General) Meeting, may agree upon any other Rules or Methods for the better observing or fulfilling the Articles aforesaid, provided such Rules are not subversive of the Fundamental Articles of this Scheme, but consistent with and conducive to the End and Design of them.

21. No alteration shall be made of a Fundamental Article, but by the Consent of the Government, had to the Determination of the major Part of the Partners, concurring with the major Part of the Directors.

22. Any one of the Clerks of the Directors, shall at any Time on Demand (for reasonable Pay as allowed in other Offices) give to any Person desiring the same, a Copy of any Part of the Records, duly attested under his Hand.

23. An Attested Copy of this Scheme from the Record shall be Registered in the Secretary's Office in Boston (if permitted) and publick Notice given of it when done, or otherwise in some other publick Office in this Province and publick Notice given accordingly.

The foregoing Scheme being the Substance and essential Part of the Scheme first projected for the Ends first mentioned, upon frequent and long Deliberations of the Directors, thus digested, amended, and altered, so far only as was necessary, thereby the better to attain the Ends first proposed, and to prevent any Doubts that might arise concerning the true and honest Meaning of the same, the Directors do now set hereunto their Hands and Seals in Boston, this eighth Day of September, Anno Domini, One Thousand Seven Hundred and Forty.

ARTICLES OF THE SILVER BANK.

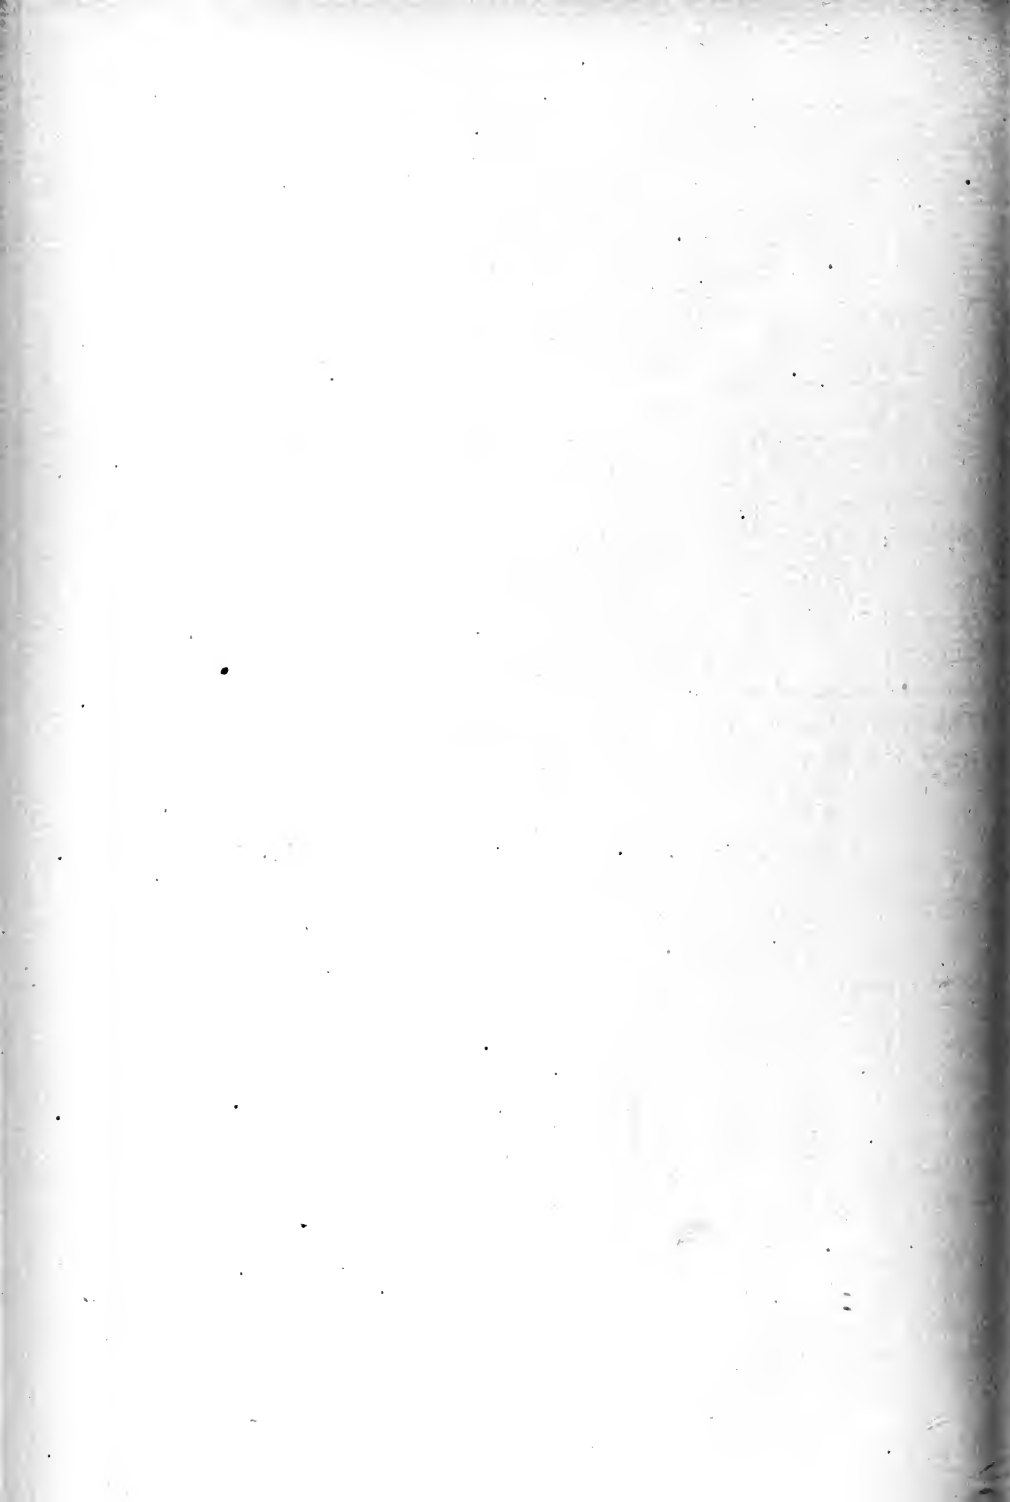

PREPARED BY

ANDREW McFARLAND DAVIS.

NOTE.

THE Articles of the Silver Bank were published in full in Franklin's General Magazine and Historical Chronicle for all the British Plantations in America, Philadelphia, January, 1741, I. 11-16. The copy of which use is made here was procured, through the courtesy of our associate Mr. Wilberforce Eames, from the Lenox Library, the fortunate owner of a set of this magazine.

ARTICLES OF THE SILVER BANK.

THE ARTICLES OF THE SILVER BANK.

Whereas the Silver and Gold, which formerly were our Medium of Exchange, have been exported to our Mother Country, in Payment for the Manufactures we have received from thence ; and for many Years our Affairs and Business, have been transacted with Bills of Credit in lieu thereof. And forasmuch as the Bills of Credit emitted by the Province of the Massachussetts-Bay, are grown scarce, by their Return into the publick Treasury, according to the Periods that have already arrived, and in a short Time the Remainder is by Law required to be brought in, and consumed to Ashes ; and whereas it seems very difficult, if not impracticable, so suddenly to procure Silver and Gold, sufficient for the Management of our Trade and Commerce.

THEREFORE, for Remedy in this Case, We the Subscribers have agreed on the following Articles, viz.

I. That as soon as conveniently may be, there be emitted One hundred and twenty thousand pounds, in Bills, or Notes of Hand, of the following Denominations, viz. Ten pounds, Five pounds, Three pounds, Forty shilling, Twenty shilling, Fifteen shilling, Ten shilling, seven shilling and six penny, Five shilling, and Two shilling and six penny, Bills, all to be redeemed and paid with coined Silver of Sterling Alloy, at twenty shillings per Ounce, or coined standard Gold at fourteen Pounds fifteen shillings per Ounce, both Troy Weight, by the last of December, Anno Domini 1755.

II. The following Gentlemen, viz. Edward Hutchinson, Samuel Welles, James Bowdoin, Samuel Sewall, Hugh Hall, Josua Winslow, Andrew Oliver, Esqrs ; Edmund Quincy, Thomas Oznard, and James Bouteneau, Merchants, shall be the Directors or Committee, to manage the Affairs of the Subscribers to this Scheme ; which Directors shall sign the Bills or Notes, and become obliged to the Possessors of them ; the Tenor of which Bills to be as follows.

Bill for Forty shillings.

WE jointly and severally promise to pay, to Isaac Winslow, Merchant, or Order, in Boston, two Ounces of Silver, sterling Alloy, or two penny Weight seventeen Grains of standard Gold, both coin'd and Troy Weight, by the 31st December 1755, Value receiv'd, Boston, New-England. August 1. 1740

III. To enable the Directors or Signers of the Bills to redeem or pay them as before, and defray the incident Charges ; every Subscriber or Undertaker for One thousand pounds, shall annually during the space of Fifteen Years, from December 31st 1740, pay to the said Directors, Eighty eight Ounces and an half of Silver, or Six Ounces of Gold, both of the Quality respectively, and weight as aforesaid ; and shall execute fifteen Bonds accordingly ; and every Undertaker for a 'less or greater Sum, shall be obliged to pay in Proportion ; the Bonds to be made payable in each Year, by the 31st Day of December. Nevertheless, it is understood, and agreed, that the said Directors may covenant with, and shall accordingly execute Instruments to the Undertakers, That inasmuch as the said Directors will have great Occasion for Silver or Gold one Month sooner annually, than the Undertakers are obliged by the aforesaid Bonds to pay them, They the said Directors will accept of sixty seven Ounces and an half of Silver, or four Ounces eleven penny weight and thirteen grains of Gold, both of the respective Quality and Weight aforesaid, from the Undertaker of One thousand pounds, if he shall pay them annually by the 30th of November, and the Directors may agree with the Subscriber or Undertaker for a lesser or greater Sum to pay in the same proportion.

IV. The Security to be given by the Undertakers, or Subscribers and Borrowers, shall be made to all the aforesaid Directors or Signers of the Bills or Notes, except what is given by any of the Directros [sic], which shall be made to the Remainder of the Directors. The Security both from Undertakers and Borrowers to be either Real or Personal, to the Acceptance of the Directors : If it be Personal, there shall be two sufficient Sureties with the Undertaker or Borrower, all jointly and severally: If the Security be Real, it shall be Land, worth, at least, double the Sum it is mortgaged for, exclusive of all Buildings, and other Things, being and growing upon it; and the Mortgage as a collateral Security for the Payment and Discharge of those fifteen Bonds: If the Mortgager be a Borrower of Silver or Gold, herein after mentioned to be let out, he shall give his personal Bond for the same, and his Mortgage as a collateral Security for discharge of his bond.

V. Every Subscriber or Undertaker shall become obliged to the aforesaid Directors, to indemnify and save them harmless, as to any Act or Acts of Government they may be obliged to comply with, or as to any Damage they may sustain in redeeming, or paying the said Notes or Bills to be emitted, or in letting out the Silver or Gold as herein after directed, or by any Deficiency, or other Neglect of the Company, or either of them; the said Damages or Deficiencies to be paid, or made up, in proportion to each ones' Subscription, including the Directors as Subscribers.

VI. Whereas, at, and after the Expiration of the first of the aforementioned fifteen Years, there will be considerable Sums of Silver and Gold in the Hands of the Directors, it is agreed and covenanted, that the said Directors, may let or hire out the said Silver or Gold to such Inhabitants of this Province as shall desire the same; for the space of thirteen Calendar Months, and no longer at one Time, the Borrower giving full and undoubted Security for the Payment of it within that Term, with Interest, at the Rate of six per Cent. per Annum: Nevertheless it is agreed and concluded, that if the said Directors shall judge that they shall have Occasion for said Money sooner than the said Bond specifies, they may agree to give any proper Instrument to the Borrower to secure and assure him, that upon paying the Sum borrowed, with Interest at the Rate of four per Cent. per Annum, so much sooner than by Bond he is obliged, as the Directors Occasions require, and the Instrument they give the Borrower specifies, his Bond shall be delivered up to be cancelled.

VII. The Directors shall keep fair Accompts of their Doings in the Service of the Company; and the Company shall meet annually on the second Tuesday in January, at some suitable Place in the Town of Boston, of which they shall have convenient Warning from the Directors; if in Boston, or within four Miles; when and where they shall lay before the Company the State of the Company's Affairs from Year to Year; and at the Expiration of the aforesaid Term of Fifteen Years, shall deliver and pay to each Subscriber or Undertaker, his Executors or Administrators, his proportionable Part of all the nete Profits of the aforesaid Emission of Notes, and of their letting or hiring out the Silver or Gold aforesaid, or any other way arising from the Company's Interest as aforesaid.

VIII. No Person shall be chosen a Director unless he subscribes or undertakes, at least, for One thousand pounds; and whosoever is so chosen, shall before he enter on the Service, covenant and agree, that in Case of his Death, or that another is chosen in his Stead, he the said Director, his Heirs, Executors or Administrators, will resign to the Company, or their Order, every Thing in his Hands belonging to the Company, as soon as may be, not exceeding one Month after his Death or Removal: And it is hereby agreed, and to be understood, that the Company may at any annual Meeting in January during the first fourteen Years of the Term of fifteen Years aforesaid, if they shall find it needful, remove one or more of the Directors, and chuse one, or more, new Directors, in the Room, or stead, of one or more who were Directors before; the Company giving sufficient Security to indemnify the deceased, or removed Director, or Directors, his or their Heirs, Executors and Administrators, from all Damages which may arise from what he or they may have done in the Service, or at the Desire of the Company.

IX. No Person shall subscribe or undertake for less than Five hundred pounds, nor more than Eight thousand pounds; and every Subscriber for Five hundred pounds shall have one Vote, and all the other Subscribers shall vote in Proportion; but it is to be understood, that no Person who by Purchase, Inheritance, or otherwise, may be Owner of more than Eight thousand pounds, shall have more than sixteen Votes, how great soever his Interest may be.

X. Whereas we are very apprehensive that the Receiving and Passing the Bills of the neighbouring Governments, which have not any good Foundation to secure their Value, promiscuously and indifferently with these, will greatly prejudice this Province, and very much tend to depreciate these Bills, tho' on the most sure Bottom; We the Subscribers therefore agree and promise, that we will neither directly nor indirectly, by ourselves, nor any for us, receive any Bills that shall be emitted hereafter by the neighbouring Governments, unless redeemable by Silver and Gold as aforesaid, or that have some solid and equivalent Fund. And as to Bills heretofore emitted, we agree and promise that we will receive and pass them, with such Allowance or Discount, as this Company shall agree upon by major Vote from time to time, at two Meetings yearly, the one in the Month of January, and the other in the Month of July; and that we will wholly refuse in all Trade and Business, and for all Debts due, the Notes that may be emitted by the Subscribers to the Bank commonly called The Land Bank, or any other Scheme of the like Nature: And that we will do every Thing, as much as in us lies, to make this Emission a common Currency, and prevent these Bills being hoarded up, or depreciated.

XI. Every Subscriber or Undertaker shall be obliged, at the Desire or Demand of the Company, or Directors, to give such further and better Security as they shall judge needful.

XII. The Directors may call a Meeting of the Company at any Time when they shall judge it needful, giving due Notice thereof, and shall be obliged to call a Meeting at any other Time when the Undertakers of one Quarter Part of the Sum emitted by the Company shall desire it, by Writing under their Hands, signifying the Occasion of their Desire: And it is agreed and understood, that in every Meeting of the Company, before they shall be capable of acting, there shall be present, either in Person, or by Proxy, in Writing, under the Hands of the Undertakers, so many as shall make one third Part of the Sum originally subscribed for.

XIII. The Directors shall be allowed and paid Fifty Pounds each Man per Annum for their Service, besides their Allowance for signing the Bills, which shall be Twenty shillings to each Director for every thousand Bills he shall sign, and the Indorser, for signing, in the same Proportion; and the said Directors shall be allowed a Clerk or Clerks, and other Officers, as shall be judged needful, who shall be paid by the Company.

XIV. The Directors shall from time to time take Care that every Undertaker, Subscriber and Borrower, fully comply with his Obligation, and on Failure shall forthwith put his Bond, or other Obligation in Suit.

XV. The Company may at their annual Meeting in January make such By-Orders and Rules, as they shall judge for the Benefit of the Company ; and at any other Meeting, provided Notice be given of the Rule or Order desired, in the Warning for the Meeting ; always provided that no such Rules or Orders shall be any Way inconsistent with any Article or Articles in this Scheme, which are hereby declared to be fundamental and unalterable.

XVI. The Directors shall let to hire no Silver or Gold belonging to the Company at any Time in the two last Years of the aforesaid Term of fifteen Years ; and shall at the Expiration of the fifteen Years of said Term, pay to every Possessor or Proprietor of a Twenty shilling Bill or Note of the aforesaid Emission, one Ounce of coined Silver of Sterling Alloy, or thirty two Grains and an half of coined standard Gold ; and to every other Possessor or Proprietor of a less or greater Sum in the same Species and Proportion at their Delivering the said Bills or Notes to them the Directors, upon which they shall be consumed to Ashes in the Presence of said Directors, and a Committee for that Purpose specially appointed by the Company.

XVII. AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE XIX OF THE SILVER BANK.

NOTE.

IN the contest between the Land Bank and the Silver Bank, the strength of the Provincial Government, so far as it was represented by the Royal Governor and the Council, was constantly exerted in behalf of the Silver Bank. The constituency of the former was to be found in the country towns, while the latter was organized exclusively by the capitalists of Boston. The promoters of both schemes based their claims for popular support upon the impending scarcity of currency which would inevitably intervene if the Royal Instructions restraining future emissions should be carried out. It was evident that the supporters of the Land Bank outnumbered those of the Silver Bank, and the political power secured by the latter through its control of the Governor and Council was offset by the election of an Assembly which was so strongly in the interest of the Land Bank that it was, according to Hutchinson, afterwards spoken of as the Land Bank Assembly.

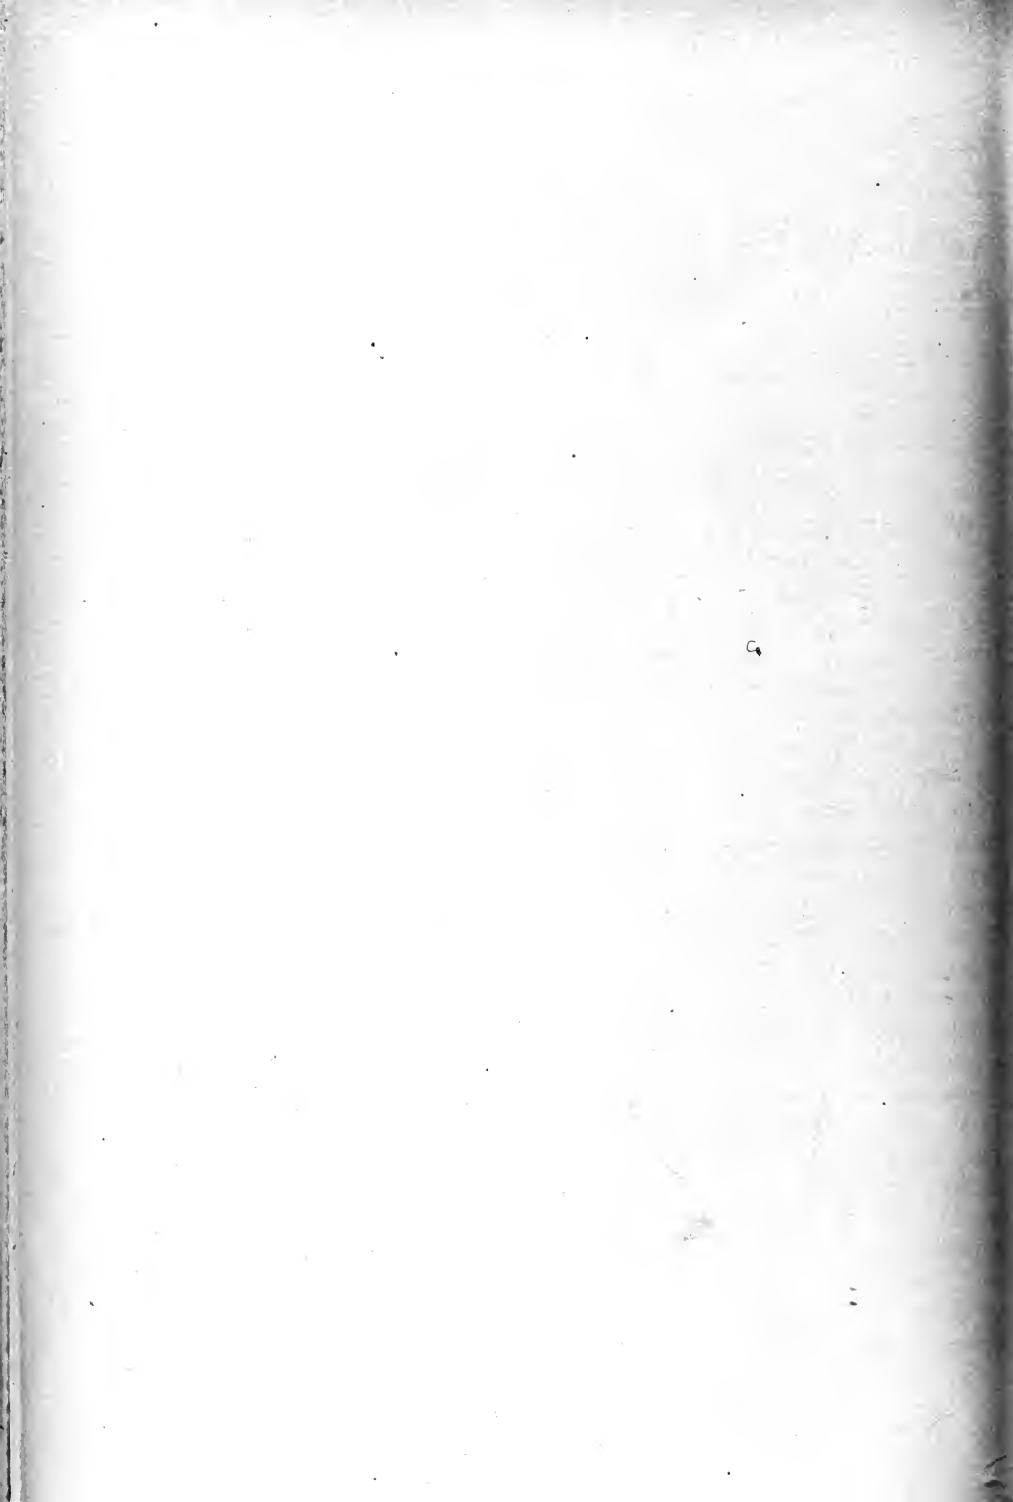

Under these circumstances it was realized by the opponents of the Land Bank that if they would succeed they must adopt every possible measure to secure the circulation of the bills of the Silver Bank in preference to those of the Land Bank.

Silver was then worth between twenty-eight and twenty-nine shillings an ounce in old tenor. The Land Bank bills were to circulate at six shillings and eight pence for an ounce of silver, that is to say upon a specie basis, but while they were thus nominally placed upon a par with silver, their value as a medium of trade was degraded by their being payable only at twenty years after emission, and then in produce. The bills of the Silver Bank, on the contrary, were emitted at par with the old tenor bills which then constituted the currency of the country. They were to mature in fifteen years and might then be redeemed or paid off in certain articles of produce enumerated in the Scheme, but it was agreed by subscribers to the Scheme, that possessors of the bills might at any time exchange the bills emitted by the Company for common current bills, upon a certain specified rate for the value of silver, for each year of the life of the bill. Beginning with the rate of twenty-eight shillings and four pence for an ounce of silver, as the rate at which the bills were to circulate or be exchanged for the first year, an annual stated reduction brought the rate per ounce of silver at which the bills were to circulate at the date of their maturity to twenty shillings. Had there been any provision for the current redemption of the Land Bank bills they should have been worth four and one quarter times those of equal denominations emitted by the Silver Bank in 1740, and at the end of the fifteen years, after the application of this scale, three times as much, but there was no provision whatever for the redemption of the Land Bank bills prior to maturity — hence capitalists, in addition to the consideration of the inferiority of their financial backing, were compelled to discount their future maturity in estimating their value as a medium of trade.

The provision in the Scheme of the Silver Bank for the exchange by possessors of bills emitted by that Company into common current bills, at any time on presentation, was regarded by Governor Belcher as an important feature in the claims for superiority upon which the bills rested — and in order that this particular claim might be emphasized, he secured the execution of the following document which is generally spoken of as the Amendment to the Nineteenth Article. The original from which the document is copied is in the Massachusetts Archives, CII. 84, 85.

AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE XIX OF THE SILVER BANK.

NOTE.

THE following list of the names of those who can be identified as having participated in the Land Bank of 1740 is made up from a variety of sources. There are two lists in the Massachusetts Archives obviously from the papers of the Company. The returns from the Registries of Deeds, forwarded in response to the orders of the Governor, furnish a few names not on these lists. The papers of the Commissioners add some more, and the publication of the several assessments shows that even these sources did not furnish all the names. The Suffolk County Court Files contain many papers connected with suits brought by possessors of bills or by the Commissioners appointed to wind up the affairs of the Bank. An examination of these papers reveals the fact that there were some who were pursued in the courts, whose names had not found their way into the several reports and lists already mentioned. One name, indeed, was obtained from a Land Bank note. The signer must have been a subscriber to the scheme.

A list which depends for its accuracy upon such extended investigation can only lay claim to approximate accuracy, but it is evident from contemporary statements as to the numbers engaged in this enterprise that these gleanings must comprehend nearly all the names. Whether all of them are accurately entered is another question. The illiteracy of many of the clerks who made out the returns, the difficulty of interpreting their hand-writing, and the curiosities of spelling which obviously indicate in some cases a phonetic rendering of a name, showing that the scrivener was recording what some other person called off, all concur to throw upon the compiler of a list from these sources considerable responsibility in assigning to some of these names the proper heading under which they should be classified. Lest any person should be misled by the classification adopted, the several spellings of the different names have been indicated, thus giving any person who may inspect the list the privilege of making another assignment, if he shall doubt the correctness of that made by the compiler.

Throwing aside the obvious and the conjectural duplicate entries, we have here a list of twelve hundred and thirty-five names. The residences of the partners are scattered over the Province, the smaller towns being especially strong in their representation, while that of Boston is disproportionately small. While there are a few well known names to be found in the list, it is plain that the partners of the Land Bank were mostly to be found among the poor people of the small towns.

LIST OF SUBSCRIBERS TO THE SILVER BANK.

PREPARED BY

. ANDREW McFARLAND DAVIS.

NOTE.

THE names of the subscribers to the Silver Bank are to be found appended to a fragment of the Articles which is preserved in the Massachusetts Archives, CII. 49-55. They have never been separately published, and although the Calendar of papers in this volume purports to be those of the Land Bank, still the history of the Silver Bank is so closely intertwined with that of the Land Bank that the names of the Boston merchants who rallied to the support of the former and pledged themselves to perpetual hostility to the latter would seem to be equally worthy of record here with those of the subscribers to the Land Bank.

While it is true that the names of the subscribers to the Silver Bank have never been separately published, it is nevertheless a fact that they have been made public in a way that would easily enable one to identify them.

In July, 1903, a list of subscribers to agreements, schemes for banks, etc., other than the Land-Bank Scheme in Massachusetts, 1733-1740, was published in the New England Historical and Genealogical Register, LVII. 274-281. This list comprehended all those who can be identified as participants in the struggle in Massachusetts between the hard money and the paper currency men of that period through their subscriptions to agreements not to receive or pay out certain bills; to borrow stated amounts in Merchants' Notes of 1733 from the managers of that affair; to borrow in a similar way from the Silver Bank of 1740, and finally to take certain amounts in proposed Province loans the purpose of which was to pave the way for a return to specie payments.

This list was prefaced in the Register with a brief account of the events which led up to this struggle in which the names of those who were known to have been connected with "The Fund" in Boston in 1681-82, the Blackwell Bank in 1686, and the proposed Bank of Credit in 1714, were also given. A combination of the list of subscribers to the Land Bank with those given in the Register list above referred to would give, if the names of those connected with the earlier banks which are mentioned in the Register were added, a fairly complete list of the men in Massachusetts who took an active part on both sides, in this long protracted contest. While such a list might prove to be interesting, its scope covers ground somewhat outside the limits of this Calendar, but the following list of the subscribers to the Silver Bank itself is not subject to this criticism.

NOTE.

IN the following pages I have sought to locate and describe a complete file of the Journals of the House of Representatives of the Province of the Massachusetts Bay from the first printed issue in 1715 to the last published as a Provincial document, before the erection of a State government. I have been successful beyond my early expectations, and for the first time the student will find available a file of these important records. The rarity of the earlier issues led me to contemplate a reprint of a part of the series; but a transfer to another field of activity compelled the abandonment of the plan. The Journals for 1715 were alone reprinted, and in this form are already difficult to obtain.

My thanks are due to the Boston Public, the Boston Athenæum, the Harvard University, and the Massachusetts State Libraries; to the Lenox (New York Public) Library, to the Historical Society of Pennsylvania, and to the Massachusetts Historical Society, for courtesies received. Mr. Henry H. Edes and Mr. Albert Matthews have kindly read the proofs and aided in the correctness of the descriptions. The list cannot claim to be final, but will prove of convenience to those interested in these publications. An edition of one hundred copies of this Bibliography was printed in 1905 from advance sheets.

NOTE.

WHEN connected with the Boston Public Library the question frequently arose whether a particular Law could be found in official and contemporary printed form. Upon consulting the volumes of the Laws of the Colony and of the Province of the Massachusetts Bay in that Library, I was impressed by the differences which might exist in issues apparently identical; and to prepare myself to answer inquiries I began to list the separate issues. The volumes were in few instances complete, and I was obliged to extend my examination to the volumes of the Laws in the libraries of Harvard University, the Massachusetts Historical Society, and the Boston Athenæum. As the list grew the omissions were found to be many, and the missing sheets were sought in libraries outside of the State of Massachusetts. The two largest collections, those in the Lenox Library (New York Public Library) and in the Historical Society of Pennsylvania (purchased of George H. Moore), yielded some rich results, and the list reached a fair state of completeness. To enable me to check this list it became necessary to compile a Bibliography of the Journals of the House of Representatives of the Province from 1715, which appears in the present volume. Even this did not end the labor involved, for I was called away from Boston before many items had been located and described. I was fortunate in having Mr. Albert Matthews as a collaborator, and his research discovered many titles not in my list, and detected many errors and differences in the numbers I had noticed. To his labors are due those material additions and the accuracy of citations; and to his editorial care, the correctness of the text and the typographical form in which the titles are printed.

The bibliography of the Laws of the Colony has been so fully treated by William H. Whitmore as to leave little further to be said. I may, however, call attention to the discovery of a copy of the long lost and much desired compilation of 1648, the copy described being still regarded as unique. It is in the collection of Mr. E. D. Church, of Brooklyn, New York. A second item is a manuscript in the State Archives of Massachusetts, believed to be in the writing of John Cotton, and endorsed "Opinions of the Elders, 1643." Its title is "How far Moses Judicials bind Mass." I have printed the text, and undertaken to establish its relation to the laws of the Province, in the Proceedings of the Massachusetts Historical Society, Second Series, XVI. 274-284.

To assist those who consult this Bibliography the following table of the various compilations and subsequent issues of the Laws of Massachusetts, with the number of pages the complete volume should contain, is given.

While the practice of continuing the paging of the Laws from issue to issue, or from session to session, began in 1668, it did not become so established as to be useful till after the compilation of 1699.

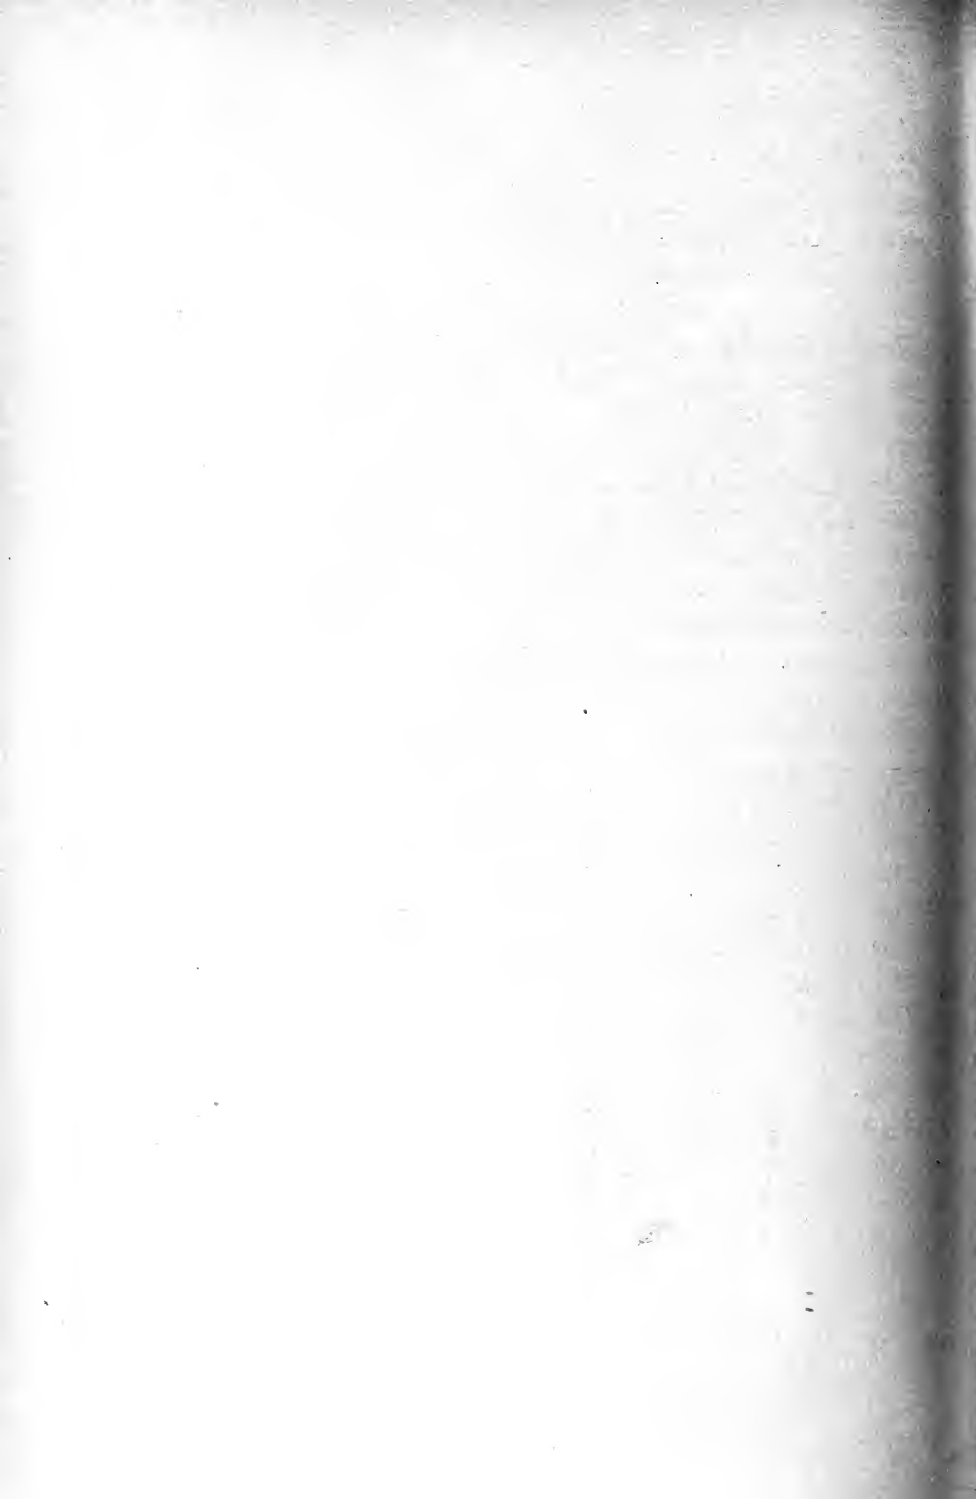

The Rev. John Cotton's Abstract of the Laws of New England, printed in 1641, and its reissue in 1655 by William Aspinwall, are given in this Bibliography for the sake of convenience. Though often confused with the genuine Body of Liberties, it is well known to historical scholars that Cotton's Laws were never actually in force.

The Body of Liberties, prepared by the Rev. Nathaniel Ward and adopted in 1641, is not given here because not printed until long after 1776, the date set by the compilers of this Bibliography for its termination. The Body of Liberties was first printed, from a manuscript owned by the Boston Athenæum, in 1843 by Francis C. Gray in the Massachusetts Historical Collections, Third Series, VIII. 191-237; and the same manuscript was reproduced in facsimile in 1890 by Whitmore in his Bibliographical Sketch of the Laws of the Massachusetts Colony From 1630 to 1686, pp. 32-61.

The quotations in this Bibliography to which the name of Hildeburn is attached, have been taken from The Charlemagne Tower Collection of American Colonial Laws, compiled by Charles R. Hildeburn in 1890.

The list can still only be regarded as partial, and the compilers will welcome additional items as they may be discovered. An edition of one hundred copies of this Bibliography was printed from advance sheets in 1907.
